What do you think was the worst thing about this course?

- I could not attend to all of the lectures due to course overlapping
- Non
- the exam! 2500-3000 word for three questions for two days (four because of the weekend) was way too much! It's a bachelor's thesis! Would have really liked to work more on the exam, but didn't get enough time in regard to the amount. Also it was difficult to work in groups when some people always got away by doing as little as possible.
- Not having enough basic knowledge (on my part)
- Too much confusion from digitalization of schedule

- Sometimes hard to get info
- Too much written work. It is useful to learn to write proper essays but my lack of writing skills was in the way of showing my knowledge
- sometimes there was bad organization of lecture, changing time of lecture, not very active people in discussion group
- I don't remember having hated something, some topics attract my attention less than others but it is a question of own interest
- a little unclear about the assignments, theme and length (would rather have number of words instead of pages)
- more information about what is expected of you. Lectures. Having to participate in speaking out loud in class
- Essay, but just because they are boring to write, not because of the learning value
- having to write essays
- Sometimes it was a lot of work to prepare for the discussions

What overall rating would you give the instructor?

What would you recommend to improve the instructor's performance?

- Continue doing as she has been doing
- Nothing
- A better overview of information, it's confusing to have to find old power points and then look in emails and then see the announcements, that may have different information.
- nothing
- Clearer instruction on what to do on presentation
- procedure of checking essays, schedule for lecture
- better understanding of mitt.uib (get that it's new though)
