Kommentar fra foreleser

What are the students satisfied with:

- good feedback from lecturer on student's questions;
- well-structured contents of the course;
- well-taught lectures and group sessions including encouragement for questions, engagement of the lecturer and adequate quantity of contents.

What are the students unsatisfied with:

- they want more help when preparing mandatory homework;
- they want more explanations on practical applications.

Suggestions for future improvements:

- Present and discuss further practical applications of linear programming;
- Giving a better feedback on mandatory homework and the possibility to discuss problems with them before deadline;
- Provide better arguments for the importance of this course for further professional career.
